July expecting to make a passage down to Nagasaki under 10 days; she met with contrary winds, became short of coals, water and provisions, and coming close on the land, observed several Japanese Junks at an author and close to it a fine looking harbour with two towns in it, concluded to stop there and try to obtain what she needed, auchoring in the afternoon of the 10th, at 5 o'clock. Shortly after the anchored a Japanese boat came alongside and enquired what she wanted; they were informed that she wanted coals, water, and provisons, or fire woon if no coals were to be had, and that she was an American steamer from Hakodadi or her way to Nagasaki with sea weed, and only touched there by necessity; the officers said that they would inform their high officers of their want and no houbt in the morning she would get the supplies. The Captain feeling great confidence, in the friendly manner of the Japanese, ordered the fires to be put down, and turned in for the night. During the night the mate informed the Captain that he heard considerable noise on shore, but not suspecting any treachery he paid no attention to it, until London Bankers. In the meantime a large body of people had gathered around the shore opposite !the ship and when they saw her about starting they fired into her about a 1,000 shot from rifles, gingalle &c. going all over and round the ship, and only twenty seven of them took effect on her side. The ship now being under way the Captain returned their fire with a couple of Parrott's Rifled Guns that he had as his armament on board, and fired some 20 odd sliells into the town, and greater part of themwith great effect, as was seen by the houses being blown up to pieces. The ship having only a few hours coal proceeded under sail across the Island of Susima, and came to an anchor there close to a village, from which she was at once boarded, and being asked what she wanted the request beings made as at Fukutheir wants, upon which the Captain made

E. H. POLLARD, Esq. The Scheme of a Local Bunk for this Colony with Uranches at the most important places in China; has; been in contemplation for a very long period.

The local and foreign trade in Hougkong and at the open ports in China and Japan has increased so rapidy within the last few years that additional Bunking lacilities are felt to be required The Banks now in China being only branches of Corporations whose head quarters are in England or India, and which were formed chiefwith the view of carrying on exchange operations between those countries and China, are scarcely in a position to deal satisfactorily with the local. trade which has become so much more extensive and varied than in former years. This defleiency the Hongkong and Shanghui Banking Company will supply, and will in fact issume the same position with relation to this Colony as the Presidency Banks in India, or the Banks of Australia in their respective localities. The Establishment of a Mint in Hongkong providing up adequate supply of proper currency; will render a local Banking medium essential to carry out its operations, and the almost certain disappearance of the existing Comprederic system. (so far as money is concerned) will also ensure rates which may be ascertained on application Banks becoming in course of time the exclusive. inedium for the transaction of the monetary operations connected with trade. For the anticipated success of this cuterprise there are therefore ample grounds; and the great prosperity which has attended the working of other local associations in China clearly shows that the largest profits are obtained by those Public Companies which possess an interested local body of Proprietors or Shareholders whose support naturally forms a chief element of remunerative success.

The Bank will commence operations simultaneously in Hongkong and Shanghai and as the importance of its business at the latter place must be very great, it is intended to establish a local Board of Directors there for more effectually meeting the work. As circumstances render it advisable the Bank will establish Branches at other In the distribution of Shares Hongkong and Shanghai will equally participate. Shares will also be reserved for the other ports in China and Japan and for persons residing elsewhere, who are directly interested in the China Trade. Applications for Shares must be addressed until further notice, to the Provisional Companional) L. instructions from Captain T. R. T. Masen. Missis, DENT & Co.

New Zealand In committee of the whole House Mr. Cardwell proposed a resolution guarantesing a loan of £1,000,000 to the colony of New Zealand, to be accured as a first charge on the colonial revenues, which now presented a surplus of £250,000 a year: the amount to be raised at a rate not exceeding 4 per cont., with a sinking fund of 2 per cent, thus creating an angual payment of £80,000. The reasons for granting the loan were the large expenditure that had been entailed or the colony by the present war, and the prospect of on early pacification taking place, that would involve a further expenditure in carrying out those measures of hoprovenient which the returnof peace would necessitate. Out of the loan of £1,000,000, the impaint due to the Treasury £300,000 would in the first instance be discharged and next at the closs of the present year the nomingl arrangements, with regard ito the military expenditure would terminate, and New Zealand would have to pay a substantial contribution to the Imperial exchaquer for any such aid asit might receive hereafter in any period of cinergency. Sir H. Willoughby said that he had examined the financial accounts of New Zealand, and the were in a very unsatisfactory statel. He was convinced that there was no margin to meet the propoted guarantee. Mr. Addorley was disposed to voto for the loan if for no other reason, because it had the condition attached that in future the colony would itself have to pay for the services of Imperial troops in excess of the force maintained there. Times.
